

VISITOR INFORMATION – WALKING DOGS

Visitors are permitted to walk their dogs at many of the extraordinary places managed and protected by the Harbour Trust. Dogs are welcome at Woolwich Dock and Parklands, the grounds of Macquarie Lightstation (Vaucluse), the park adjacent to the Former Marine Biological Station at Camp Cove (Watson's Bay) and the three precincts that make up Headland Park (Mosman) – Georges Heights, Middle Head and Chowder Bay.

GENERAL RULES

For the safety of all visitors, and to protect native flora and fauna, please observe the following rules, enforceable by our rangers:

- Dogs must be kept on a leash at all time.
- Dog owners are responsible for removing any dog waste from our lands.
- Dogs are not permitted at North Head Sanctuary (Manly) or Cockatoo Island.
- Dogs are not permitted within 10 metres of childcare facilities.

ADDITIONAL NOTES:

- Guide dogs are welcome at any of our visitor destinations, including Cockatoo Island and North Head Sanctuary.
- Except for North Head Sanctuary and Cockatoo Island, dogs are allowed in the outdoor dining areas of cafés and restaurants on our lands subject to the consent of the venue's operator.
- Visitors walking their dogs at Headland Park should be aware that adjoining lands are managed by the NSW National Parks and Wildlife Service and Mosman Council. These bodies enforce different regulations, which may include areas where there are restrictions or dogs are prohibited. For further information, please check the websites for these bodies.
